

Ask yourself these questions about your poor complexion

"Why do I endure these unsightly pimples and blotches?"
"How do other girls keep their skins clear and make themselves welcome where I am avoided?"
"Is there some way to improve my complexion that will not cost more money and time than I can afford to spend?"

You can give yourself this answer: "I believe the simple, but thorough, daily use of Resinol Soap, aided perhaps by a little Resinol Lotion, will be all you need to restore your unattractive skin to its natural healthy beauty. Don't worry—act!"

For free sample ask, write to: Dr. J. C. Resinol, Baltimore, but all local druggists will

CONSPIRATORS IN PLOT TO BOOST FOOD PRICES CALLED BY GRAND JURY

and at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with buyers in West Washington Market clamoring like mad, the price rose to 24 cents.

There was the slightest reason for holding up the one hundred and sixty or more cases in the Jersey and Staten Island yards, and the persons responsible have violated a Federal criminal statute of Interstate Commerce in that they entered into a conspiracy in restraint of trade. The railroad yards in which the poultry was held while the prices were jacked up were the Pennsylvania, Lackawanna and Baltimore and Ohio.

Commissioner Hartigan says he has learned that thousands of retail butchers, grocers and delicatessen dealers who have not already raised prices are preparing for a harvest tomorrow in anticipation of the arrival of Saturday pay envelopes.

DEALERS PLAN FOR A BIG HARVEST TO-MORROW.
"I want to warn the housewives of this city," said the Commissioner, "that there isn't the slightest justification now for advances in the prices of either perishable or staple food supplies. Retailers began this morning advancing their prices of perishable foods from 10 to 25 per cent. without the slightest provocation. They admit that they are plentifully supplied, but claim that they are charging more in anticipation of a strike. As a matter of fact, they are dishonestly taking advantage of an uncertain situation."

Commissioner Hartigan began a tour of the city at 8 o'clock this morning and first of all visited the farmers' markets. All dealers there boldly told the commissioner that they had already ordered general advances in prices to become effective to-day. The commissioner says these dealers are not justified because they get all their vegetables from farms within 100 miles of this city and the supplies are carried in auto trucks.

RETAIL BUTCHERS ADVANCE PRICE OF MEATS.

"Beginning this morning," added the Commissioner, "retail butchers have already advanced the price on all grades of meat from a cent to three cents a pound. Their excuse is that they have received advice from large packers to the effect that the cold storage supply is limited on account of the embargo on live stock. Yet most of these butchers are charging high prices for meat that was contracted and paid for before the scare came. That is proof in itself that the public is being misled."

"Flour, sugar, coffee and all other dry groceries have not been advanced by retailers during the past few days. But as I have already stated, the grocers are waiting to hand it to the housewives."

"Potatoes jumped a dollar a barrel to-day. Corn is up 10 cents a dozen. String beans have advanced 20 cents a bushel and soup greens, which the poor buy in large quantities, have gone up from 5 to 8 cents. Carrots

MACEDONIAN GARRISONS YIELD BEFORE REBELS; TROOPS FIRED UPON

the revolutionists, but accepted allied mediation. It was agreed that the soldiers should be disarmed and interned at Camp Zietnik, outside the city. The officers were permitted to retain their swords, pledging themselves not to interfere with the revolutionists. The barracks were handed over to the French. It is understood a number of officers and a considerable portion of the men sympathize with the revolutionary movement and will now join it.

ANOTHER GARRISON YIELDS TO VOLUNTEERS.
The garrison at Fort Little Karaburun refused to recognize the committee, whereupon revolutionists surrounded the fort. After news had been received of the submission of the Salonica garrison the regulars at Little Karaburun yielded.

Prompt action by the French commander, who detailed a strong escort to protect the Salonica garrison and marched it through the streets of the city in the afternoon, has had the effect of clearing the atmosphere.

It is reported from Greek sources at Salonica that the entire force of about 3,000 men under Col. Christodoulos, which left Seres several days ago to resist the Bulgarian invasion of Macedonia, has been captured by the Bulgarians.

Before the Greek garrison at Salonica surrendered, Reuter's correspondent cables, three companies of French colonial infantry marched to the parade ground and stacked arms in front of the barracks. They were soon followed by two battalions of infantry, which took up positions on both sides of the parade grounds and in the rear of the barracks. Machine guns were posted at several conspicuous points and armored cars were stationed opposite the entrance to the barracks. The Greek soldiers withdrew within the precincts of the building. Meanwhile the French commander conferred with the French authorities. Just before 11 o'clock at night several unarmored Greek officers, accompanied by two French officers, entered the parade ground to a pavilion in which Gen. Barrail awaited them. As the hour of 11 struck all the Greek troops moved from the barracks, unarmed.
